School News! NEWS

- The Queen's Platinum Jubilee – What a joyous day for our school family as we celebrated the Queen's Platinum Jubilee! The whole school celebrated with a giant tea party with lots of tasty treats. Thank you to everyone who donated cakes, crisps and sweets. Your generosity is truly appreciated. #MakingMemories

- The Big Breaktime – On Friday 10th June, we will be holding a BIG BREAKTIME event to raise money for the NSPCC. We will be challenging the children to see how many times they can run around our track. This will be followed by a HUGE whole school playtime on the field. Your child can come to school in sportswear/PE kit. We are asking for a donation of £1 for the NSPCC.

Class	Weekly News Update
Nursery	Nursery has enjoyed learning all about the Queen and where she lives because of the Platinum Jubilee. They've also made crowns for the party on Friday. Both the afternoon and morning group are having the pleasure of some snack boxes. On a side note, they have also been looking at repeating patterns.
Reception	In Reception, aliens have stolen the Queen's knickers - luckily, one of the children found them! Because of the jubilee they've thought of lots of questions to ask the Queen; they will be sent off to Buckingham Palace.
Year One	In Year One's science topic they thought of a suitable material for an umbrella. For maths, they are looking at position and direction of shapes. Finally, in English, they completed their leaflet on Africa!
Year Two	Year two have blown the competition by not only making crowns but also portraying the Queen herself. Also they've been leaning shapes in math.
Year Three	Like year two, year three have also been learning about shapes but not only 2D but 3D! After a while, they have finished their kindness topic in RE. Like all the other classes, they've made crowns. Who knows, they could be better than everyone else's?
Year Four	After a month or two, they've finally finished their Rivers topic (which they've all enjoyed). In English, they've made their extravagant performance poem – we're sure that the whole school will love it.
Year Five	Year Five have made an investigation on making glue, after their scientists Arthur Fry and Spencer Silver. Letting out their artistic manner for the Queen's Jubilee, they've drawn their own version of the Queen, inspired by Roy Lichtenstein. Finally, for English, they've focused on dialogue, what it can tell about Alice.
Year Six	Year Six have done many activities in honour of the Queen's Jubilee; from making jaw-dropping crowns (which took forever) to making their own stamps using their own heads! Unrelated to the jubilee, Year Six have looked at using natural resources for their masterpieces. This is similar to William Morris' ideas, how he used nature in his artwork!

A note from our Head Boy and Head Girl... Our beloved Mrs Senior has gone to London to see the Queen. She has gone to deliver a birthday card from our very own St Joseph's family!

On another note, we have finished another term... hooray for that! Have fun celebrating the queen's ACTUAL jubilee, and have fun with your street parties!
