School News

A warm welcome back to Autumn term 2, we hope you had a nice half term (1 week does not feel long enough though!)

Just to make everyone aware that the new St. Joseph's Facebook page has gone live this week. It is a place for you and the wider community to see all the wonderful learning that is happening at our school. Please give us a follow and ask friends and family to do so too.

A big thank you for the toiletries today for the school fair. A reminder when wearing non-uniform it must be appropriate for school.

Many thanks

Have a great weekend
